Following our establishment on November 7, 2013, we were listed on the Real Estate Investment Trust Securities Market (J-REIT Market) of the Tokyo Stock Exchange on February 7, 2014. We have now successfully completed our 1st fiscal period (fiscal period ended August 31, 2014). We will continue to work to maximize unitholder value by maintaining and growing profits over the medium to long term and increasing the size and value of our portfolio through the support of our sponsor, the Hulic Group.

We ask for the continued support of our unitholders.

On November 25, 2013, the Investment Corporation was registered with the Director-General of the Kanto Local Finance Bureau (registration number: Director-General of the Kanto Local Finance Bureau No. 88). The Investment Corporation issued new investment units (617,500 units) through a public offering with the payment date on February 6, 2014, which were listed on the Real Estate Investment Trust Securities Market (hereinafter referred to as the “J-REIT Market”) of Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. The Investment Corporation’s investment activities are focused on real estate-related assets, primarily investing in and managing office buildings and retail facilities.

i) Investment environment and investment performance

Investment environment: The Japanese economy during the fiscal period under review exhibited a volatility caused by the rush of demand before the consumption tax rise and the lull of demand afterward. However, the economy is expected to revert to a path of gradual recovery on the back of improved corporate earnings, firm employment environment, and the like.

In the rental office market, there was improvement in the supply and demand balance, particularly in the central area of Tokyo. The overall vacancy rate was seen to improve, with the large buildings providing traction for the medium and small buildings. Moreover, rent levels appeared to have hit bottom and cases of rent rises were even observed in some parts of the market.

Investment performance: On February 7, 2014, the Investment Corporation acquired 21 properties (with a total acquisition price of ¥101,424 million), which were listed as assets planned for acquisition in the Investment Corporation’s Securities Registration Statement (submitted on January 6, 2014, prepared in Japanese only) regarding the public offering of investment units for the initial public offering of the Investment Corporation on the Tokyo Stock Exchange. Management of the properties started on the same date. The closing date for the fiscal period under review is August 31, 2014. In addition, in procurement of interest-bearing debt, the Investment Corporation secured short-term loans payable of ¥7,360 million and long-term loans payable of ¥29,040 million on February 7, 2014 as additional funds for asset acquisitions. On March 7, 2014, the Investment Corporation made a partial early repayment of short-term loans payable of ¥3,400 million.

Long-term loans payable include ¥26,590 million in borrowings based on a variable interest rate. The Investment Corporation has used an interest rate swap to fix the interest rate for all such borrowings.

As a result, at the end of the fiscal period under review, interest-bearing debt totaled ¥33,000 million, comprising ¥3,960 million in short-term loans payable and ¥29,040 million in long-term loans payable, resulting in a loan-to-value (LTV) ratio of 30.3% at the end of the fiscal period.

In the period of actual operations (206 days from February 7, 2014 to August 31, 2014), operating revenues were ¥3,660 million and operating income was ¥2,480 million. Ordinary income was ¥1,555 million and net income was ¥1,553 million for the fiscal period under review, reflecting recording of interest expenses for borrowings, borrowing related expenses and lump-sum combined costs of ¥423 million for investment unit issuance costs and organization expenses.

Furthermore, in accordance with the distribution policy set forth in the Investment Corporation's Articles of Incorporation, the Investment Corporation has decided to pay distributions for the fiscal period under review in an amount roughly equal to unappropriated retained earnings, with the aim of including distributions of profits in tax deductible expenses pursuant to special measures for the taxation system for investment corporations (Article 67-15 of the Act on Special Measures Concerning Taxation). (5) Future investment policies and issues to address

In the outlook for the rental office market, demand for offices is expected to remain firm mainly on the back of improvements in the employment situation and business results, while rent levels are expected to improve, and, in the near term the market is expected to recover moderately. In addition, the real estate selling market is expected to improve further due to prospects of a full-fledged recovery in the rental market and favorable fund procurement conditions.

Against this backdrop, the Investment Corporation will focus on commercial properties in the greater Tokyo area, aiming to maximize unitholder value over the medium and long term, and invest in next-generation assets, aiming to support stable earnings over the long-term. As part of these efforts to maximize investor value over the medium and long term, the Investment Corporation will implement efforts combining the Asset Manager's own measures to drive external and internal growth while using the support of the Hulic Group. The Investment Corporation will maintain and grow profits over the medium and long term and increase the size and value of the asset portfolio.

In financing strategy, the Investment Corporation will maintain the LTV ratio at an appropriate level and shift to longer loan-terms with fixed interest rates and staggered repayment dates in order to maintain a stable and healthy financial position.

[Notes on Financial Instruments]

1. Matters regarding status of financial instruments

(1) Policy for handling financial instruments

The Investment Corporation procures funds for acquisition of assets, repairs and repayment of debt primarily through borrowings from financial institutions and issuance of investment units. In procuring interest-bearing debt, the Investment Corporation takes into account a balance between flexibility in procurement of funds and financial stability.

Furthermore, the Investment Corporation conducts derivative transactions only for the purpose of hedging fluctuation risk of interest rates for borrowings and does not conduct any speculative transactions.

(2) Description of financial instruments and associated risks, and risk management structure

Deposits are used for investment of our surplus funds. These deposits are exposed to credit risk such as bankruptcy of the depository financial institutions. Deposits are carried out with safety and redeemability taken into consideration and are limited to those with short-term deposit periods.

Borrowings are conducted mainly for the purpose of acquiring properties. Of these borrowings, those with floating interest rates are exposed to interest rate fluctuation risk. To avoid this fluctuation risk, the Investment Corporation uses derivative transactions (interest rate swaps) as hedging instruments, which, in effect, converts fluctuating interest rates into fixed interest rates.

For the method of hedge accounting, hedging instruments and hedged items, hedging policy and the method of assessing hedge effectiveness, please refer to “4. Method of hedge accounting” in “(7) Notes on Significant Accounting Policies” above.

(3) Supplemental explanation on matters regarding fair values, etc. of financial instruments

The fair values of financial instruments are based on market prices, if available. If there is no available market price for certain financial instruments, such fair value is based on the value rationally measured. Since variables are factored into measurements of fair value, the value may vary if different assumptions are used. The contract amounts related to derivatives mentioned in “Derivative transactions” below should not be considered indicative of the market risk associated with the derivative transactions.

2. Matters regarding fair value, etc. of financial instruments

Balance sheet carrying amount, fair value, and the difference between the two values as of August 31, 2014 are as follows:

(Unit: thousands of yen)

	Balance sheet carrying amount	Fair value	Difference
(1) Cash and deposits	3,263,862	3,263,862	–
(2) Cash and deposits in trust	2,002,306	2,002,306	–
Total assets	5,266,168	5,266,168	–
(1) Short-term loans payable	3,960,000	3,960,000	–
(2) Long-term loans payable	29,040,000	28,191,628	(848,372)
Total liabilities	33,000,000	32,151,628	(848,372)
Derivative transactions	–	–	–

(Note 1) Measurement of fair values of financial instruments and matters regarding derivative transactions

Assets

(1) Cash and deposits, and (2) Cash and deposits in trust

The book value is used as the fair value of these assets, given that the fair value is almost equivalent to the amount of the book value, as they are settled in a short time.

Liabilities

(1) Short-term loans payable

The book value is used as the fair value of these liabilities, given that the fair value is almost equivalent to the amount of the book value, as they are settled in a short time and carry floating interest rates.

(2) Long-term loans payable

Since long-term loans payable that carry floating interest rates are reviewed on a short-term interval to reflect market interest rates, and the Investment Corporation's credit standing did not change significantly after the execution of loans, their fair value is considered approximate to the book value. Therefore, the book value is used as the fair value of these liabilities (However, for long-term loans payable with floating interest rate to which special treatment for interest rate swaps is applied (Please refer to "Derivative transactions" below.), the fair value is calculated by discounting the sum of principal and interest, which are treated in combination with the said interest rate swap, at a reasonable rate estimated for a similar new loan that is made corresponding to the remaining period.)

The fair value of long-term loans payable carrying fixed interest rates is calculated by discounting the sum of principal and interest at a reasonable rate estimated for a similar new loan that is made corresponding to the remaining period.

Derivative transactions

(1) Derivative transactions not applying hedge accounting

Not applicable.

(2) Derivative transactions applying hedge accounting

The contracted amount or principal amount equivalent or the like set forth in the contract as of the balance sheet date for each hedge accounting method is as follows:

(Unit: thousands of yen)

Hedge accounting method	Type of derivative transaction	Major hedged item	Contracted amount		Fair value	Measurement method for fair value
				Portion due after 1 year
Special treatment of interest rate swaps	Interest rate swap transaction Payment: fixed interest rate Receipt: floating interest rate	Long-term loans payable	26,590,000	26,590,000	*	—

* Interest rate swap transactions to which special treatment is applied are accounted for as an integral part of long-term loans payable, a hedged item. Thus, their fair values are included in the fair value of long-term loans payable. (Please refer to the preceding "Notes on Financial Instruments, 2. Matters regarding fair value, etc. of financial instruments, (Note 1) Measurement of fair values of financial instruments and matters regarding derivative transactions, Liabilities (2) Long-term loans payable.")

[Notes on Investment and Rental Properties]

The Investment Corporation owns rental office buildings and other properties in Tokyo and other regions for rent revenue. The balance sheet carrying amounts, changes during the fiscal period under review, and fair values of these rental properties are as follows:

(Unit: thousands of yen)

Reporting period (From November 7, 2013 to August 31, 2014)
Balance sheet carrying amount			Fair value at end of reporting period
Balance at beginning of period	Changes during period	Balance at end of reporting period
–	102,635,863	102,635,863	109,743,000

(Note 1) The balance sheet carrying amount is the acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation.

(Note 2) The main reason for the increase in the investment and rental properties during the period is the acquisition of beneficiary rights of real estate in trust of 21 properties (¥102,933,082 thousand). The decrease is mainly due to depreciation (¥327,382 thousand).

(Note 3) The fair value at end of period is the appraisal value provided by an independent real estate appraiser. The profit or loss for the period under review concerning investment and rental properties is indicated under “Notes to Statement of Income and Retained Earnings” above.
